

All components in this section are based on Figma's auto layout feature except button group & tool tip, Buttons will auto resize as you change text you can adjust the padding or spacing by clicking alignment and padding icon, You can also resize by adding a fixed width to a button but it is not recommended.

The image displays a collection of 24 button styles, organized into three main categories: Red Buttons, White Buttons, and Dark Blue Buttons. Each category contains four variations of button styles, arranged in three rows. The variations are: a plain button, a button with a plus icon, a button with a right arrow icon, and a button with both a plus icon and a right arrow icon. The buttons are presented in three rows per category, with the first row showing the smallest size, the second row showing a medium size, and the third row showing the largest size. The buttons are arranged in a 4x6 grid overall.
